Homemade Device Calls Big One

Berkeley Brown (above) and daughter Sarah of the Hollywood Community were looking forward to a sumptuous turkey feast from this 17 1/2 pound gobbler taken Saturday morning by Berkeley, using an unusual turkey caller. Barely visible in his left hand is a polished turkey bone connected to a length of rubber tubing, connected to a metal "Band-Aid" container. He can imitate a turkey's call very well with the device and plans to use it again. After all, each hunter is allowed two gobblers and the season has just begun. Brown works with the Va. Division of Forestry in the State Forest.

Ruritans Hear Extension Agent

A very interesting and informative talk was given by James A. Smith, Appomatox Extension Agent, at the regular monthly meeting of the Oakville Ruritan Club. The meeting was held Friday, April 17, at the Oakville School.

Mr. Smith discussed formation of the new Industrial Development Corporation and what it can mean to citizens of Appomattox County. A report by the finance committee revealed that a recent pancake supper was very successful. The club expresses its appreciation to all who supported the club in this worthy cause.

termediate School on Tuesday, April 14, 1970.

Vice President, Sheila Torrence opened the meeting. We then had the pledge to the flags. Jerry Conner led us in the pledge to the American Flag, and Kathy Marshall the 4-H Flag. The secretary, Beverly Harvey, read the minutes of the last meeting.

The meeting was then turned over to Miss Maton. She showed the class a film and talked about the "June is Dairy Month" poster contest.

Millicent Martin and John James brought the class a speech. Millicent's was entitled "Being a Teenager," and John's, "My Honda Mini Bike."

Mr. James then gave us some information about 4-H Camp which is to be held from June 27 to August 1. We then saw a film about the camp, and the people who wanted them got applications for 4-H Camp.

With no further business, president R. B. Carter closed the meeting.

A Great Fall by Mildred Savage — An account of the brutal murder of a young housewife in a small Connecticut town and the two extraordinary trials that followed it. Sam Rome, the chief of detectives, gathered a strong case against the woman's mother-in-law, but his evidence was ignored and a youth prosecuted. The trial is not only the young man's but also Rome's for he testifies for the defense, giving evidence against the state and his won colleagues.

Take What You Want by Faith Baldwin — Janice Cooper, rejected by Dave Peters, meets a wealthy, handsome young man in her godfather's law office. He's fascinated by her lack of interest, and, after an elaborate courtship, they settle down to a business like marriage and a jet set world. When her old lover reappears, Janice realizes she not only loves her husband, but fears he will not accept emotions that were not part of the bargain.

To Teach, To Love by Jesse Stuart — Jesse Stuart was the son of a man who could barely write his own name, yet he became famous novelist, short story writer, poet and teacher. Of these professions, teaching was the best loved, for he taught because he thought of teaching as a mission, an ideal, and a challenge. His warmly written account of 50 years in the classroom is fine reading for teachers and perplexed parents.

The Malady in Madeira by John Brahm — The last thing widowed Julia Probyn expects to find on the island of Madeira is a clue to her husband's mysterious death, for he perished somewhere in the wilds of central Asia while on a mission for British Intelligence. No sooner does she arrive, however, than sinister events begin happening. She and her cousin put two and two together and the facts of her husband's murder and a vicious Russian plot become apparent.

The Protege by Charlotte Armstrong — Mrs. Moffat, a gentle septuagenarian, is visited by a bearded young man, Roman Warren, who somehow manages to extend his visit indefinitely, becoming a companion, gardener, and jack-of-all trades. The Alexandra, Mrs. Moffat's daughter-in-law, becomes suspicious of the old lady and her young protege, and her investigation of the mysterious happening around the Moffat house results in a tale of nerve jangling suspense.

Great Lion of God by Taylor Caldwell — A novel about St. Paul based on the author's extensive research in the Vatican and the Holy City. Characterized by emotional quality and perceptive treatment, it presents the holy man as a highly intelligent member of a powerful Roman Jewish family and tells how he moved Christianity from a small Jewish sect to an international religion.

Mrs. Brightwell's 4-H

Mrs. Brightwell's 4-H Club met Friday, April 10, 1970. The meeting was called to order by President Ronnie Richardson. The Minutes were then read and approved. After the 4-H pledge was said, the song leaders lead us in a few songs. The president then turned the meeting over to Mr. Smith. Mr. Smith showed us what to do next month. He also showed us a film about 4-H camp and what we would do while we were there. The meeting was then adjourned.

Correction

The Times-Virginian wishes to make a correction in the publication about a bride-elect and her wedding date given in Gaines' Jewelers advertising last week. We regret the errors made both in the spelling of Miss Wingfield's name and the date of the wedding. The correct information is as follows : Miss Mary Elliott Wingfield's marriage to Mr William Allen Watson is planned for June 26, 1970.

Mr. Greer's 4-H

Mr. Greer's 4-H met on April 15. Gay Honeycutt read the minutes of the last meeting and they were approved as read. Gloria McCoy and Doretha Biglow led us in the pledges. Carolyn Morris and Cindy Guill gave a speech entitled: "Some Humerous Things About My Wonderful Grandma's". Mr. James handed out sheets on "June is Dairy Month Posters" and we saw some slides of some posters. Mr. James gave us information about the slides and showed slides about Dairy Month.

Rabies is still a potential ... danger to all people. The 1969 ... statistics have just been released. There were 389 confirmed cases last year, the highest in ten years. A year earlier there were only 148 cases.

Over the past ten years rabies has been reported in 24 species in Virginia. The dog is not the principal source as many suspect. Last year five other animals had higher incidents of rabies than the dog: Fox 278, Cow 37, Calf 17, Cat 11, Skunk 10. The steer and dog were tied with 7.

Since 1965 more cats have been reported as rabied than dogs. If you have cats you owe it to your family to have them vaccinated for rabies.

There were no reported cases in Appomattox County last year, but neighboring counties did have problems. Amherst reported 4 cases, Campbell 5 and Nelson 8 cases of rabies. The highest number of cases were reported in Smyth County with 87.
